

Steven Schreiber

Originally from western Long Island, Steven Schreiber moved to the East End in 2001 to experience the rural way of life. He began photographing nature with his digital camera and soon found a personal approach to visual textures and colors that are essential in his photographic creations, incorporating those similar textures and tones in his black and white works as well.

Having a long history in design from Interior Design to Landscape Design has helped his focus on the creative. Steven took a break from that field and began new studies solely in photography. Steven received his Associates Degree in Photographic Imaging with Honors from Suffolk Community College in Riverhead and was nominated to be in the book of 'Who's Who in Americas Colleges and Universities' for his outstanding accomplishments.

Believing photography only starts with a camera, Steven also Prints all of his own images using an Epson archival printer and inks, as well as his own matting and framing for a finished custom look.
